AXIS ATTEMPT TO WREST VITAL TUNISIAN POINTS REPULSED

New Enemy Drive To Recapture Guadalcanal Is Smashed

All-Out Assault To Eject Allies From Key Triangle Fails

By the Associated Press

London, Dec. 4.—American and British troops massed for a new showdown with Axis forces in Tunisia today after a bitter 48-hour battle in which they repulsed a series of desperate German attempts to recapture key points on the approaches to Tunis and Bizerte.

An Allied spokesman in North Africa declared that losses in the past two days had been heavy on both sides and that the edge in the impending test of strength "will go to the one who regains his strength more quickly."

The scene of action was the triangle formed by the towns of Tebourba, Djedeida and Mateur, situated astride the vital railway between Tunis and Bizerte.

Knowing that control of this triangle is the key to the whole situation in Tunisia, the Germans made an all-out attempt to eject the Allies but failed, the spokesman said, though Djedeida—12 miles northwest of Tunis—changed hands several times.

At present, he declared, Allied troops are holding the western part of that town and are in control of both Tebourba and Mateur. Tebourba is about 20 miles west of Tunis and 35 miles south of Bizerte, while Mateur is 12 miles south of Bizerte.

The Allied spokesman estimated that the Germans have about 14,000 combat troops in the battle area and said it was evident they "intend to stay in Tunisia until the last possible moment."

"The Germans always have decided the British for Dunkerque," he added, "and maybe they are out to prove they are ready to die for the fuhrer."

The communiqué told of continuing Allied air attacks on airdromes at both Tunis and Bizerte, and said that especially heavy damage had been done at the former, with many enemy aircraft destroyed on the ground.

Red Army Notches New Gains In Battle To Relieve Siege

Moscow, Dec. 4.—(P)—The Germans were reported rushing ill-trained reserves into action on the central front east of Velikie Luki and west of Rzhev today in a desperate but futile effort to stop a Russian offensive knitting deep into the Nazi lines.

Front line dispatches said many of the German infantry units being thrown into the fray were hastily formed from the ranks of technicians, engineers or air force ground crews and were led by pupils and teachers from officers' training schools.

The midday communiqué of the Soviet information bureau said the Germans were launching repeated counterattacks on the central front but declared they were all repulsed and that the Red army's offensive was continuing.

MARTIN RECLASSIFIED BY HIS DRAFT BOARD

Beverly Hills, Calif., Dec. 3.—(P)—Tony Martin, 29, actor-singer who was dismissed from the navy last Tuesday for unfitness, was reclassified by his draft board today as "I-A," subject to physical examination. A. H. Pier, board chairman, said.

Martin, who had served as chief specialist in the navy for 11 months, reported to his draft board immediately after his dismissal, and expressed a desire to enter an army gunnery school.

ONE DEAD, TWO HURT IN STOVE EXPLOSION

Wilkes-Barre, Dec. 4.—(P)—A stove explosion killed Harry A. Lohman, 39, of Shavertown, and injured two others in nearby Hanover township yesterday.

Coroner L. S. Reese, Jr., said ice in a compartment of the stove expanded rapidly when a fire was started and the explosion resulted. A piece of metal struck Lohman's head.

The stove was on a steam shovel in use in a pumping station project.

WPA ORDERED LIQUIDATED IN FEBRUARY

President's Letter States Rolls Decreased So Program Is No Longer Needed

ELIMINATED IN BUDGET

Washington, Dec. 4.—(P)—President Roosevelt today ordered complete liquidation of the work projects relief program.

The president, in a letter to Major General Philip B. Fleming, Federal Works Administrator, said the WPA rolls had greatly decreased through the "tremendous increase in private employment, assisted by the training and re-employment efforts of its own organization, to a point where a national work relief program is no longer necessary."

Mr. Roosevelt ordered the closing out of all projects operations in many states by February 1, 1943, and in other states as soon thereafter as feasible.

"By taking this action," the president said in his letter which he read to his press conference, "there will be no need to provide project funds for the Work Projects Administration in the budget for the next fiscal year."

Mr. Roosevelt said certain groups of workers still on the relief rolls may have to be given assistance by the states and localities; others would be able to find work on farms or in industry at prevailing rates of pay as private employment continues to increase.

The WPA spent $10,468,249,000 between the time it was established in the summer of 1935 and last June 30.

Mr. Roosevelt's order came when the organization had shrunk to one-tenth of what it was in its hey-day.

Harrisburg, Dec. 4.—(P)—State WPA Administrator Richard Irvin expressed an opinion today that 26,000 project workers in Pennsylvania would be thrown on state relief by liquidation of the federal relief program.

Irvin said President Roosevelt's order in Washington, closing out all project operations in many states by February 1, 1943, and in other states as soon thereafter as feasible, was a complete surprise.

Withdrawals From Plants Is Planned

BY WILLIAM G. SMOCK

Harrisburg, Dec. 4.—(P)—State selective service headquarters today outlined a plan soon to be in full operation in Pennsylvania to permit "an orderly withdrawal" of men from war plants.

Col. E. F. Evans, acting director, described the program as providing the local boards with full information as to the length of deferment needed to enable a replacement in any given case to be trained, thus releasing a man for the armed forces.

He described the plan this way: "Each employer takes an inventory of the manpower situation in his plant. He works up a 'manpower table' which gives full information about each worker, including time needed to train a replacement."

"The table is submitted to the state director of each state's selective service system. The director either accepts, rejects or asks for a revision of the table. If accepted, the employer is assigned a certain number."

Fat Old Gent In Red Suit Receives Present

Washington, Dec. 4.—(P)—The fat old gent in the red suit and white whiskers who turns up in the stores with gifts for the kiddies about this time every year received a Christmas present himself today from the War Labor Board.

Demonstrating that there is no ceiling on the Yuletide spirit, the board issued a blanket wage control exemption to all bona fide Santa Clauses on condition that they radiate a spirit of good will and cheer.

The board received a rush request from the National Retail Dry Goods Association, New York City, asking in behalf of a small store whether it could pay its Santa Claus $25 this year when last year he received only $20.

Pétain Being Kept Under Surveillance

Marshal of France Is Prisoner In All But Name

LAVAL GAINS POWER

By the Associated Press

New York, Dec. 4.—(P)—Pétain, a prisoner of the Nazis in all but name, virtually has been stripped of power and a new all-out collaborationist regime is emerging in Vichy under the guidance of Pierre Laval, the Associated Press was informed today by usually reliable sources.

The identity of these informants may not be divulged but they are known to have had access to authoritative Vichy circles, including persons in high diplomatic places and one man until recently a member of Pétain's cabinet.

This former cabinet member told of deceit and coercion by Laval and his cohorts to bend the old marshal to their will and of Pétain's own resigned admission that affairs in Vichy had become a matter of each man for himself.

This minister, who must remain anonymous, said Pétain was taken completely by surprise when the Nazis marched into unoccupied France Nov. 11 although his own cabinet had been informed fully beforehand that Hitler intended to tear up the armistice provision setting aside France's free zone.

On some days, it is said, the marshal is kept under constant German surveillance—not actually under arrest, but deprived of freedom of movement—while Laval works on to win backing for a (Turn to Page Thirteen)

FADDIS IN SERVICE

Waynesburg, Dec. 4.—(P)—Col. Charles I. Faddis, Democratic representative from the 25th Pennsylvania district since January, 1933, reported today at Camp Meade, Md., to take part in his third war. Col. Faddis served on the Mexican border in 1915 and in World War I in France. He was defeated for re-nomination a month ago, after his district had been revamped.

Slowly Rising Temperatures Bring An End To Frigid Wave

St. Marys Boy Is Wounded

Washington, Dec. 4.—(P)—United States coast guardsmen who were wounded while guiding troop-filled landing boats through enemy fire onto North African beaches north of Casablanca, Morocco, have been brought back to this country for treatment.

The navy, making the disclosure today, named only three of the men, one of them Richard L. Buckle, 27, boatswain's mate, second class, of St. Marys, Pa., who received shoulder and leg wounds from machine gun bullets.

The group is at an unidentified east coast port. The number of guardsmen wounded was not given nor did the navy say whether those brought home were all or only a part of the total wounded.

They were attached to several coast guard transports from which their landing boats drove through syhrell fire, machine gun fire, and aerial strafing to help establish a beach head on the rocky coast north of Casablanca.

CENTRALIZED CONTROL MAY GO TO BYRNES

Economic Director May Be Asked To Work Out Solution To Manpower Problem

NEW JOB FOR M'NUTT

Washington, Dec. 4.—(P)—Edwin W. Pauley, secretary-treasurer of the Democratic national committee, said after a conference with President Roosevelt today that he would not be surprised if Paul V. McNutt remained in charge of manpower in the president's long waited reorganization of that phase of the war effort.

Pauley told reporters that he had discussed with the president the political aspects of the reported cabinet changes supposedly at first involved in the reorganization.

Washington, Dec. 4.—(P)—Reports circulated in congress today that President Roosevelt might ask James F. Byrnes, the economic director, to assume centralized control over the nation's manpower machinery.

Although the president shelved this week a proposed three-way cabinet shift which would have placed Secretary of Interior Ickes in charge, consolidation of authority over all agencies dealing with civilian workers as well as the selective service was reported still under contemplation.

Mr. Roosevelt apparently had hoped to bring this about by making Ickes secretary of labor, transferring Miss Frances Perkins from that post to federal security administrator and naming the FSA chief, Paul V. McNutt, as secretary of interior.

When this plan was abandoned because it might have precipitated a bitter senate debate over confirmation of three new appointments and because of a desire to keep Ickes in his post as administrator of the petroleum program, in line with requests of leaders of the industry, the question of transferring the manpower duties to Byrnes was reported to have come up.

There were also reports from informed sources, who declined to be quoted by name, that McNutt might emerge from the contemplated shifting of manpower control with additional powers, in (Turn to Page Thirteen)

PATIENT IS RETURNED

Philadelphia, Dec. 4.—(P)—William Ciolek, 62, was returned to a hospital last night, 24 hours after he walked away while doctors examined x-ray photographs of his head. Police said they found him in a taproom. The x-rays showed a fractured skull.

HIGHWAY FATALITY

New Cumberland, Dec. 4.—(P)—June Marie Engle, the 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray O. Engle, of New Cumberland, R. D. 1, was fatally injured when struck by an automobile here last night. Dr. Earl H. Grim, Daughen county coroner, said the girl died of a fractured skull while on the way to a Harrisburg hospital.

FORD IS TURNING OUT GIANT BOMBER PLANES

Detroit, Dec. 4.—(P)—Giant Consolidated D-24 E bomber planes are being delivered to the government at the Ford Willow Run bomber factory.

This was disclosed today to a group of news writers, who visited the great factory as part of an industry tour. The writers also learned officially that production is expected to reach its peak time during the latter half of 1943.

Specific details regarding this latest achievement of the motor-car industry at war were not permitted.

Harrisburg, Dec. 3.—(P)—The Republican state committee received $428,751 and spent $402,981 in the general election campaign to obtain the governorship for Adjutant General Edward Martin.

In a last minute filing before last night's deadline, the committee listed contributions of $4,000 each from Joseph R. Grundy, G. Mason Owlett, J. Howard Pew, Mabel Pew Myrin and J. N. Pew, Jr., $3,400 from Secretary G. Albert Stewart of forests and waters and $3,000 from State Chairman M. Harvey Taylor.

John C. Bell, Jr., Republican secretary of banking, elected lieutenant governor, said he had $629 expenses and no receipts. Other reports: William S. Livengood, Republican secretary of affairs, who was re-elected, no receipts, $516 expenses; Michael A. Musmanno, Pittsburgh, Democrat, defeated candidate for superior court, no receipts, $516 expenses.

Leaflet Lists Best Foods To Be Served

Harrisburg, Dec. 4.—(P)—Pennsylvania housewives, faced with meat shortages, are advised to give their families more vegetables and other foods which supply protein, iron and B-vitamins.

Leaflets being distributed to 2,000 homes by the State Defense Council's consumer committee listed these foods as examples:

Turkey, chicken, liver, fish, cottage cheese, milk, soy beans, lima beans, peas, oysters, mustard greens, spinach, whole grain products, eggs, potatoes and many vegetables and fruits.

Reports On Condition Of Duce Conflict

Some Listeners Failed To Hear Any Unusual "Puffing"

IS SLOWER THAN USUAL

New York, Dec. 4.—(P)—Conflicting reports as to whether Premier Mussolini coughed and breathed heavily during his speech for broadcast Wednesday permitted no conclusion as to the state of the 59-year-old Fascist leader's health.

Reuters reported in London that all its listeners to the Rome transmission of Duce's speech said he was "wheezing and coughing" during the original broadcast, but that this was not audible on recorded re-broadcasts.

A Bern dispatch to the New York Times also noted that "he interrupted himself frequently with coughing spells or to repeat."

Associated Press monitors said Mussolini spoke more slowly than usual, but they detected no sign of coughing. British Broadcasting Corporation monitors in England and the Columbia Broadcasting System in New York said they heard no unusual puffing either in the original broadcast or in recordings.

CBS said its listening station heard Mussolini's voice "resonant and clear" and reported:

"He coughed only twice during the first hour. He rattled, he wheezed, he shouted, just as he did during the days when his speeches were more frequent. Even at the points where he shouted at the top of his lungs—which was loud and often—his voice did not crack."

Supply Depot Construction To Be Probed

Harrisburg, Dec. 4.—(P)—A federal grand jury will convene here Monday to investigate reports of fraud and embezzlement in the construction of the $40,000,000 naval supply depot at nearby Mechanicsburg.

Justice department officials at Washington announced the jury inquiry after United States Commissioner Sidney E. Friedman said there is "a solid basis in fact" in reports that theft, bribery and embezzlement have resulted in a $1,000,000 shortage in equipment and materials at the 800-acre depot.

The Washington officials, who declined use of their names but were qualified to speak for top executives, denied Friedman's allegation that an investigation by the F. B. I. and naval intelligence officers had been suppressed.

Instead, they said, the F. B. I. investigation had shown the case to be of such major importance that it was turned over to the war frauds unit of the justice department. Considerable time has been required, they added, to obtain all the information required.

The depot, which has 57 warehouse buildings, was built by civilian contractors and dedicated Oct. 1.

Kids Won't Have To Scream For Ice Cream Despite War

Washington, Dec. 4.—(P)—Relax, kids. That ice cream cone propaganda is licked.

Government officials indicated today that Uncle Sam has no intention of freezing the freezing of cream.

Now, there may not be as much as usual and it may not be as rich as usual—and something new and fruity may replace those old familiar flavors.

But—despite the national shortage—nobody will have to scream in vain for ice cream.

It seems that the multi-flavored frigid moo-juce is a food and not a confection, which makes it one of the necessities. Besides, the

THOUSANDS OF JAPS KILLED IN SEA FIGHT

Nine More Nipponese Vessels Destroyed By United States Warships In Solomons

AMERICAN LOSS SMALL

BY JOHN H. WIGGINS

Washington, Dec. 4.—(P)—Smashing another major Japanese effort to bolster their tired and dwindling ranks on Guadalcanal island, United States warships have destroyed nine more enemy vessels with an estimated loss of thousands of Nipponese troops.

The Japanese transports, a cargo ship and six escorting warships were sent to the bottom of the Solomon Islands waters, the navy reported late yesterday, when the enemy armada blundered into an American naval trap under cover of darkness Monday night.

The attempted landing was completely frustrated, the navy said. Only a few sailors, rescued from life rafts the following day, reached Guadalcanal as prisoners. The rest, including probably 8,000 to 10,000 troops on the transports, apparently were lost.

One American cruiser was sunk in the nocturnal sea battle and "other U. S. vessels damaged," the communiqué added. But among the Mikado's sunken warships, the navy listed four destroyers and two other ships which either were cruisers or heavy destroyers.

Thus, the tropical waters around the Solomons now envelope at least 51 enemy vessels as a result of the latest battle. Eighty more were in the probably sunk or damaged category.

Meanwhile, as American forces enlarged their Guadalcanal position by wiping up more Japanese detachments, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's planes raided Koepang at the southwest tip of Timor yesterday and damaged or destroyed 18 enemy bombers and three fighters.

ALLENTOWN CITIZENS MUST SAVE TIN CANS

Allentown, Dec. 4.—(P)—Allentown residents are now legally as well as morally obliged to salvage tin cans for the war effort—and if they fail they are liable to 30 days' imprisonment or $10 to $100 fine.

The city council adopted an ordinance to that effect, but provided that any fines be remitted if the offender buys a war bond.

MacNider Is Reported Hurt

BY MURLIN SPENCER

Somewhere in New Guinea, Nov. 24—(Delayed)—(P)—Brig. Gen. Hanford MacNider, former assistant secretary of war who has been with the American task force attacking Buna, received eight wounds last night from a Japanese grenade while in the front lines.

(A spokesman for General Douglas MacArthur in Allied headquarters, Australia, said today Gen. MacNider now is in an Australian hospital and recovering nicely. He said the wounds were not serious.)

General MacNider, a former commander of the American Legion, whose home is in Mason City, Ia., received two wounds in the right arm, one in the abdomen, two on the right thigh, one on each knee and one on the right hand.

frozen fluid will meet the resistance of a lot of people who don't get their milk any other way—thus improving their health in spite of themselves.

Anyhow, the office of Price Administration and the agriculture department said they had no present intentions to suspend manufacture of ice cream.

As to flavors, a spokesman for the industry said war-caused shortages were usually matched by domestic surpluses. When chocolate was short in some spots, there were plenty of peach- and folks gobbled up the fresh peach ice cream. Then there was a nut surplus, he said, and the same system worked.

Tire Inspections In Order To Comply With Rationing Act

Vehicle owners who have just started to try gasoline rationing are now reminded that the federal inspection program is now in effect and all vehicles should be submitted for tire inspection during the current check-up period to prevent a repetition of the serious "jams" that have been seen during the rationing period.

The following regulations govern the tire inspections and every motorist should be familiar with them in order to prevent trouble for himself with his Uncle Samuel.

Motorists holding "A" ration books must have their tires checked before January 31. Thereafter tires must be examined every four months with inspections at least 60 days apart.

"B," "C" and "D" holders must have tires inspected during those same 60 days and must have them checked every two months thereafter with inspections at least 90 days apart.

Commercial vehicle operators must have tires checked every 5,000 miles or every 60 days.

Certified tire stations—lists are on file with ration boards and some stations display identification signs—are manned by experienced tire men familiar with servicing and possessing necessary repair equipment.

Inspection fees, fixed by the office of price administration, permit a charge of 25 cents per vehicle if tires are not removed. If hauled if tires are removed for "closer inspection" these fees in addition to the original 25-cent charge may be assessed: 50 cents for each passenger car tire; 75 cents for each small truck tire; $1 each for large truck tires; 50 cents for each dual tire removed.

Records of the tires' condition will be entered on the owner's possession record, which must be in the operator's possession at all times.

Rationing officials have hinted that boards may deny reread or recapped tires to motorists who fail to keep their "rubber" in proper condition.

Beginning Tuesday with the start of nation-wide gasoline rationing, trucks, buses and taxicabs were forced to display "war necessity" certificates.

Truck owners not yet supplied with certificates were operating on temporary permits issued by local ration boards.

Cold Wave Continues; Fight To Open Roads Being Waged

"We are winning the battle we think" was the report from the State Highway Office this morning in the skirmish between the men and trucks and old Storm King that dumped from eight to 14 inches of snow over the county Wednesday night. "The men are working to the limit and we have all of the main highways open and in good shape for travel with care and low speed. Cinders have been spread on curves and hills and we have made the highways as safe as possible."

Yesterday 16 trucks and 137 men were at work all night and day and this morning 14 trucks are out at work. The main highways are all open in every direction and the snow on Route 62 toward Jamestown has been removed and cinders spread. This road through to Buffalo was clogged with snow yesterday and one or two parties from Warren are reported to have been marooned near Silver Creek amid the drifted snow.

Secondary roads are receiving attention today and following their opening today work will be started on opening the dirt roads of the county. In all over 200 miles of highways in Warren county are covered by the snow following a big storm. The heaviest snow in the county is reported from Scandinavia where it is estimated that 14 inches of snow piled on the highways while Yankee Bush came next with about a foot of the beautiful.

The truck drivers of the Highway Department are working hard to get the snow cleared away so that they can take part in the scrap drive of Pearl Harbor Day. The State Highway Department will use its trucks in hauling scrap next Monday as far as possible but inquiry at the local office developed the information that "keeping the roads open is the first job but we are anxious to get in the scrap, too."

The weather man is not cooperating with the Highway Department as the forecast is that the cold wave will continue. This morning slight snow flurries continued with some wind and should the mercury rise it is expected that more snow will fall.

Mail Is Tied Up

Lander. The storm which broke over this section is the worst in years and the high winds have effectively blocked the roads. Milk producers have been unable to get out with their product for several days past. The snow plows have been at work but the wind drifts the snow back of them and the fight is a losing one for the plows. One of the big plows broke down yesterday. The rural mail carrier has managed to get as far as Lander daily from Russell but has been unable to get through the remainder of the route over Stanton and Thompson Hills and down through Scranton Hollow through Lovers Lane to the main highway. The Lander school has been closed two days.

The YWCA recreation committee has extended a cordial invitation to all men in the armed forces to participate in the weekly Community Night square dance from 9 to 11:30 p. m. Saturday in the activities building.

John G. Rossman, superintendent of borough schools, states that one out of each six pupils was absent from school yesterday because of the storm. Attendance in the high school was particularly hard hit because many school buses from rural sections were unable to get through.

MINISTERS TO MEET

Rev. Harold Kuapenberger, pastor of Grace Methodist church, will be the speaker at the meeting of the Warren County Ministerial Association at 10:30 a. m. Monday at the YMCA. His topic will be "The Social Basis of a Just and Durable Peace." Rev. D. O. May, pastor of Russell and Akley Methodist parishes, will lead the devotional period.

BISHOP IS COMING

The Rt. Rev. John C. Ward, D. D., Bishop of Erie, will visit Trinity Memorial Episcopal church Sunday, concerning the rite of confirmation on a class of candidates presented by the pastor, Rev. E. P. Wroth. There will be a celebration of the Holy Communion at 9 a. m. and Holy Communion and confirmation at 11 a. m. A cordial invitation is extended to all who care to attend these services.

HANDLED MANY CALLS

The Bell Telephone Company yesterday handled, with one exception, the greatest number of calls that have ever passed over their lines. This was due to the storm and to the fact that gas rationing keeps many persons at home. In all there were over 32,000 local calls when the normal number is approximately 26,000. There were 727 out of town calls instead of the 650 normal out of town calls.

USE IS GROWING

Use of the food lockers opened in Warren several months ago is growing and a large number of the lockers are now in use for the storage of food products. Freezer locker units in the state have increased from seven in 1938 to more than 40 at the present time. Their use shows the people of the state are awakening to the fact that locker contents form a wartime reservoir of food for the families which rent them.

IN RESERVE CORPS

Scotty Calderwood, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Calderwood, Verbeek street, is among a number of University of Pennsylvania, students who are receiving training in naval science and tactics as members of the Naval Reserve Officers' Training Corps unit on the campus. Enrolled in the Wharton School of Finance and Commerce at the university, young Calderwood previously attended Warren High School and Mercersburg Academy. Wagner. All members of the Board of Trustees were in attendance, with Chairman, Harold L. Banghart, presiding. Besides Mr. Banghart and Mr. Wagner, those present were W. W. Beatty, C. T. Conarro, C. J. Crary and O. A. Presel.

HIGH WATER STOPS WORK

Work on the sewer line being laid to the site of the sewage disposal plant on the South Side has been halted by the high water stage of the river. The water has backed into the ditch and effectively stopped all work. The ditch now being dug is 10 feet in depth and with the water seeping in has become too dangerous for the work to be carried forward. The crew of men which had been at work on the project has been transferred to a job on Conevango avenue. Both are WPA projects.

Obituary

LEONARD G. SWANSON

Dr. H. A. Rinard, pastor of the First Lutheran church, will conduct the rites to be held at 2:30 p. m. Sunday in memory of Leonard G. Swanson, who died suddenly Thursday at his home, 513 Conewango avenue.

The services will be held from the Lutz Funeral Home, with Rev. Bert Edquist, St. Paul's Lutheran church pastor, assisting Dr. Rinard. Interment will be made in Oakland cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home at any time.

The sudden death of Mr. Swanson yesterday was a shock to the entire community, and brought innumerable expressions of sorrow as the word of his death spread throughout the town during the afternoon. Growing up through the local schools, and through his business experience and community affairs, Mr. Swanson had an exceptionally large acquaintance with both older and newer residents, and his friends were numbered by those who knew him. His genial nature, and constant willingness to be of service in every possible way, made him welcome among any group of business or social friends, and his loss will be keenly felt.

Leonard G. Swanson was born in Warren November 29, 1901, the son of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Swanson, who survive him. His marriage to Bernice Samuelson Swanson took place in 1925, and she, with two children, Deane, twelve years old, and Suzanne, three, a sister, Mrs. Roger Hendrickson, and a brother, Vernon, now with the U. S. Navy at Boston, Mass., are the other members of his immediate family.

After attending Warren schools, Mr. Swanson graduated from Upsala College in 1922, and entered upon a continuation of previous employment with the Warren National Bank, where his faithful service has won the highest regard of his associates and customers of the bank. Beginning as a messenger, he worked through various bookkeeping departments and as a teller, and for the past ten years has been primarily in the department handling real estate loans.

He has engaged in many community activities, serving as president of the local board of the Pennsylvania Department of Public Assistance, taking prominent part in the work of the Warren Community Chest and the Warren County Council of Defense. For several years he was a member of the church council of the First Lutheran church, where he maintained his membership.

JAMES M. THOMPSON

Funeral services in memory of James M. Thompson, well known Pleasant township resident and prominent Granger, were held at 2:30 p. m. Thursday at the Peterson Funeral Home, conducted by Dr. H. A. Rinard, pastor of the First Lutheran church. Bearers for interment in Oakland cemetery were Harold Baker, Peter Knudsgard, Arthur Shearer, Leo Schuler, Vernon Grunder and Emil Schwab.

Those who came from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Holcomb and Miss Mary Jane Holcomb, Philadelphia; Mrs. Harold Raffensperger, South Carolina; Mrs. Wilbur Trautman, Baltimore, Md.

JOHN HENRY MICHAEL
John Henry Michael, who resided with his son, Ludwig R. Michael, near Bear Lake died Tuesday at 12:30 a. m. after an illness of some time. He lived near Falconer until seven years ago when he went to reside with his son. He is survived by his wife, Lilla, at present a patient in the Warren General Hospital; two sons, Ludwig R., of near Bear Lake and John H. Jr., of Falconer, N. Y. Six grandchildren also survive.

The body was removed to the Schoonover Funeral Home at Sugar Grove where funeral services will be held Sunday at 1:30 with interment in the Ross Mills Cemetery.

TIMES TOPICS

ENTERING MARINES

Mrs. L. M. Schaeffer, 108 Connecticut avenue, received word today from her brother, Robert S. Reynolds, that he has passed his final examinations and will report to the U. S. Marine base at Parris Island, S. C., on January 1. Young Reynolds, formerly of Warren, has been attending the School of Foreign Service of Georgetown University in Washington, D. C.

COUNTRY SCHOOLS CLOSED

County Superintendent of Schools H. L. Blair states that several of the country schools have been forced to close yesterday and today by the storm which closed roads and kept school buses from operating. Freehold township, Irvinedale, Lander and other schools were closed, and the pupils are given an opportunity to stay home and help their parents fight the snow on the farms. The two-day vacation given the pupils will have to be made up at a later date.

HAS COMPLETED CONTRACT

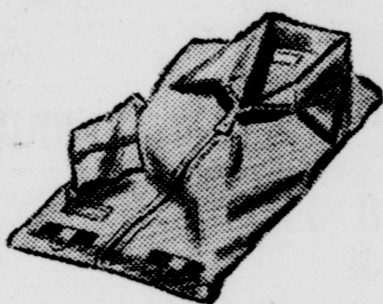

The Youngsville Furniture Company has just completed the building of 10,000 filing cabinets for the Art Metal Construction Company of Jamestown and there is little metal used in them. K. M. Andrews states that the only metal in the cabinets is a tiny clip used to hold a lignum vitae roller on which the drawers operate. The use of wood in construction work of the kind is growing by leaps and bounds due to the scarcity of metal in the country.

LEONARD G. SWANSON

In a world rapidly getting accustomed to the bitterness of war and the shock of death, it is still a distinctly personal sorrow to the many friends of Leonard Swanson to lose such a fine man in the prime of life. From the happiness of his home and family, and the activity of his business and community life, he will be sadly missed. The world needs more men of his steadily pleasant disposition, his desire to do his best for his employers, and his willingness to do his full share for the good of the community. "He has achieved success . . . who has gained the respect of intelligent men and the love of little children . . . who has left the world better than he found it," . . . these things can be said of Leonard Swanson.

REMEMBER A YEAR AGO!

Warren can make the Pearl Harbor anniversary Monday click with a bang if all persons will cooperate in the salvage drive scheduled on that date.

Readers have had plenty of reminder that Monday, December 7, is the day elected for a one-day collection of scrap metal in this community. It was just one year before when the Japanese made the most infamous sneak attack in all history on a friendly power.

Scrap collected here next Monday will be transformed into guns, bullets and other munitions of war to be fired back at the yellow hyennas. A few years ago they transported it to Japan in shiploads. Now let's give it to them in bombers and battleships.

Follow instructions in donating your scrap Monday. Help show the rest of the state why that honor flag is going to float over the court house one of these days!

TRAITORS MUST DIE

On first thought, it may seem hard that Max Haupt must die for not turning in his son, a Nazi saboteur landed by U-boat in this country. Family loyalty against the world is a normal instinct, to be recognized and nourished.

But the sordid philosophy for which Herbert Haupt worked was the first to destroy family solidarity deliberately and systematically, teaching children to betray their parents, husbands their wives, sisters their brothers, in order to stamp out even mental reservations against Nazism.

This is not an old-style war. This is a fight to the death for the survival of civilized decencies. Max Haupt decided to string along with Hitlerism. No pity should be wasted on him. He was a traitor.

N. A. M. IS WRONG

The National Association of Manufacturers blames the critical rubber shortage on government inaction when our sources first were threatened. That is an easy, popular, but superficial approach.

There has been infinite bungling in the rubber program. Not even yet have we gone far enough. But after the true strength of the Japs was learned it was too late, even if there had been no procrastination or errors at all, to have averted the rubber shortage.

The basic fault was in underrating Japan's military might. Our government did that. We did that. Nor do we remember any warnings demonstrating that the N. A. M. was more foresighted than the rest of us.

ANNUAL LODGE OF SORROW

The first war-time Lodge of Sorrow under the auspices of the Warren Lodge of Elks since 1918 will be held Sunday afternoon in the spacious auditorium of the club house at the corner of Hickory street and Fourth avenue. Officers and members of the order are emphasizing the fact that while the public generally is invited to attend, a special invitation is extended wives and families of deceased members. A solemn tribute will be paid members in the service. The fact that Rt. Rev. John Chamberlain Ward, D.D., bishop of the Erie diocese of the Protestant Episcopal Church, is to be the speaker should assure a large attendance.

COFFEE RATIONING

Government explanations of coffee rationing still do not satisfy doubts of a large sector of the public. Undoubtedly they are true, but they are not adequate.

There is an explanation—one of logic, not of inside information—which could be made and would be ample. If we were told that coffee is being rationed because from now on much more shipping must be diverted to support a war of continuous offensive, almost everybody would be satisfied.

Isn't that the real reason?

Washington In Wartime

(Second of Two Articles on enemy propaganda in the U. S.)

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—Among those persons whose business it is to examine and worry over enemy propaganda that floods into the United States, one of the chief concerns lately is with the "let's-relax-it's-all-over" school of talk.

This is hardly a thought that the Axis could foster openly while still making dire threats about what they are going to do to our troops. Yet it is Axis propaganda.

The reasoning in this school is: We'll take Africa, knock Italy out of the war in a few weeks, open a second front in the south, march another in the west, and it will all be over.

THAT doesn't take much time in telling, but Army and Navy strategists shoot it as full of holes as the box kite caught in ack-ack. In the first place the Battle of Africa isn't over yet and after that will have to come the Battle of the Mediterranean. Give a thought to how long tough little Malta has held out in this war. Give another to the fact that Hitler, with all his might, didn't dare cross the narrow Channel to invade an England that had almost no army and no air power after Dunkerque.

Remember also that bombing alone has never won a battle and that Genoa, Turin, even Rome could be reduced to rubble without our gaining a foot of ground in Italy.

As for Italy making a separate peace, that's pretty well scouted. There's no government in sight in Italy with which a peace could be made. Before there is, there must be a revolution that will not only have to deal with the Fascists but with the hordes of Nazis now overrunning that land.

Opening of a Western Front will be a task that will take time and planning and a vast concentration of ships and men. Even when all those hurdles are cleared, there still is Japan in the Pacific—a matter which can't be ignored unless we want to expose our own mainland to attack.

THE Axis in Europe has several ways to meet the present threat.

The best guess now, however, is that it probably will dig in for a long war of attrition and in the end a negotiated peace that will leave the Nazis in power. Our job will be to see that even that strategy fails, but it might take more than "lightning war" which is already three years old.

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS AND SOUNDS

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—The new pictures: "Journey for Margaret" is a story of children in war, and it pleads their cause eloquently. In so doing, it becomes a powerful appeal for the war effort and the defeat of enemies who have subjected the young to bombs and fire and the consequent wrecking of their emotional and nervous systems.

Margaret is one of the waifs rescued from a blitzed London home and taken to a children's home where sympathetic understanding as well as physical care is given. She is a terrified, pitiful little object, dry-eyed, clutching the one tie she has with "home"—her "imagium" bomb. A young American correspondent, doing a story on the home, is "adopted" by Margaret and a little boy he previously had pulled from the rubble of another blitz.

With sidelights on the effective use of sound psychology in treating the children's war fears, the story deals with the newsman's efforts to win passage for the pair back to New York and his wife, who herself had lost an expected child during a London bombing.

Robert Young, Laraine Day, Fay Bainter are excellent, but the children—5-year-old Margaret O'Brien and 4-year-old Billy Sey-er—steal the show. Little Miss O'Brien, with no kiddie coyness whatever, gives a sensational dramatic performance, with a crying scene that makes you want to go—personally—and kick Hitler in the pants.

MORE remote from today's strife is Mervyn LeRoy's filming of James Hilton's "Random Harvest." Greer Garson and Ronald Colman are involved in this romantic, best of the current "amnesia cycle." Colman is the World War I memory-losing veteran, befriended and married by showgirl Garson. It is no surprise when an accident restores his former identity as a man of wealth, overlooking his memory of the romantic interlude. Nor is it surprising that the wife turns up as his quietly efficient secretary, hiding her identity and suffering in silence while he seeks the missing link with his past and incidentally becomes engaged to attractive Susan Peters. Overly long, "Random Harvest" is still a tender and moving love story, acted and directed sensitively, and just the thing for those who haven't enjoyed a good cry lately over fictional woes. Watch Susan Peters.

"THE BLACK SWAN" is magnificently Technicolorized swashbuckling, adventure, romance, plus pirates in the days of Sir Henry Morgan, the reformed buccaner, Tyrone Power (training for the Marines), leaps, jumps, duels for lovely Maureen O'Hara. Also present: Laird Cregar and George Sanders, who even without a fierce red beard can commit scenic grand larceny under the noses of Hollywood's best.

PILE TORTURE RELIEVED

The maddening, itening, burning, and stinging are lessened and often greatly relieved by using San-Cura Ointment.

T. J. Williams of Detroit writes, "Years ago, when I suffered greatly with itching piles, I used San-Cura and received such comfort I now want it for other uses. I enclose a money order for a large jar."

San-Cura Ointment at all drug stores. It is a great help first to bathe the affected parts with San-Cura Soap.

AROUND NEW YORK

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK — When the boss told me I was going to Cairo I almost fell out of the chair. They were, to me, the most impressive words I had heard in a long while, and for a moment my heart stood still. I didn't know whether to try to compose myself or to get up and shout, and so I compromised by leaping up and shaking his hand.

He said, "Not so fast. There are a few things we've got to talk about. Before I send you out of the country I want to give you the other side of what may appear now to be a glamorous experience."

"I said, 'Yes, sir.'"

"THERE are," he went on, "great dangers involved. One of our foreign staff members is missing and we fear he may be dead. Another is a prisoner of war. Still others have been injured, or have had very narrow escapes. Many have become ill."

"There is no telling where a man in the foreign service may be sent. In many countries the living conditions are terrible, the drinking water is dangerous, and none of the ordinary comforts of home is available."

"All such assignments now have to be for the duration because of the uncertainties of transportation. Former provisions for home leave can not apply in war time."

"There is no likelihood that your family can join you. You should make provision so that they can carry on without you indefinitely."

"There are no regular hours in the foreign service, and vacations are on a catch-as-catch-can basis under present conditions."

place you. When you leave—this column fades out—at least until the end of the war. The importance of this war cannot possibly be over-emphasized. We all have too great a stake in the outcome. It is more important right now than anything else, and this includes first nights, country clubs, and cafe gossip."

I THOUGHT back over the old bygone days when the Butter & Egg men were around, when the "Hello Sucker" era was in high tide and when Broadway—or was it Wall Street—was still the real center of the world. Gradually some of that importance has been dispersed to Hollywood and to Washington and to other points, and now there is War, and though the tom-toms still beat along the street that has been called Rue Regret, these are other days and other times.

I went over to the International Bldg. and put in an application for a passport that looks like a secret, censored passage out of the Arabian Nights. This passport calls for Egypt and India, Iran, Iraq, Palestine, Turkey, Russia. But Cairo is the first stop, and in this war Cairo is the hub of the wheel. Whichever way the war rolls, I'll roll too.

I was vaccinated for smallpox, and inoculated for typhoid, yellow fever, typhus, tetanus, and cholera. The smallpox took fast. The typhoid threw me, which pleased the doctor a great deal. He said I was a wonderful subject. He was like a demolition expert at work on an old bridge, and I was the bridge.

I don't know why I am telling you all this, except that we are old friends and I hope you will remember me when I shift from the amusement sections to the front page and begin to write from other cross-roads more ancient and storied than Times Square can ever be.

I expect to be gone for a long time, but then Broadway itself will still be here. After all, it has already been here more than 200 years.

AMERICA'S FIGHTING FRONTS IN THE FIRST YEAR OF WAR

FIRST OFFENSIVE by American forces in the first year of war was the attack on the Japs in the southern Solomons. The U. S. struck at Guadalcanal and Tulagi to regain some of the British islands seized by the enemy last spring as bases for attack on Australia. Since then Japs have made many costly attempts to regain these islands. U. S. forces also aided Australian drive on Buna.

SECOND FRONT for 1942 was opened in North Africa by American and British troops landing in Morocco and Algeria from an 850-ship invasion armada just 11 months after Pearl Harbor. After short-lived token resistance by the French, Algiers, Oran and Casablanca fell and allied armies swept into Tunisia to battle Nazis. Gained were bases to bomb, and perhaps to invade southern Europe.

OVER WESTERN EUROPE amazingly indestructible American Flying Fortresses have roared in daylight raids on Nazi positions. Meanwhile thousands of U. S. troops arrived in England to train for the occupation North Africa and ultimate invasion of Europe.

IN THE ALEUTIANS Japs made their first landing on North American soil. American bombers blasted the enemy out of Attu and Agat, but after six months of fog and sub-Arctic weather, Japs still held Kiska. New Alcan highway speeds war aid to Alaska.

Sealed proposals will be received at the Office of the Secretary of Highways, Room 506, North Office Building, State Capitol, until 10:00 a. m., Eastern War Time, December 21, 1942, when bids will be publicly opened and scheduled and contract awarded as soon thereafter as possible for the repairs to the Hickory Street bridge pier foundations, Warren County, Warren Borough, Application 4104, Traffic Route 337. Bidding blanks and specifications may be obtained free; a charge of $2.50 a set is made for construction drawings including cross sections which may be obtained upon application to the Pennsylvania Department of Highways, Harrisburg. Recognition Of Young Violinist's Exceptional Talent Paid In Record Attendance at Concert

Members of the Warren Concert Association were given one of their few opportunities, last evening at the Woman's Club, to witness the artistic development of an artist, when Isaac Stern, one of America's most brilliant violinists, played a return engagement.

Without dusting off the dictionary and looking up all the six-syllable words applicable to music, the following cannot remain unsaid in justice to Mr. Stern:

From the first notes of the Mozart Sonata in E Minor, K-304 with which Mr. Stern opened his program to the final note of the last encore, the evening was one of mounting enjoyment. Mr. Stern did everything which can be done with a violin. His technique, as displayed in interpreting Bach's Sonata No. 1 in G minor for solo violin, and particularly in the second movement, was something at which to wonder. His sheer beauty of tone, notably in Kreisler's Schon Resmarin and Liebesleid, left the audience breathless. His brilliance as exemplified in the Hora Staccato left his audience not quite believing its ears. Enough to say that Mr. Stern has completely conquered two faults, which, in the writer's opinion, were most noticeable in his previous appearance; namely, a slight lack of showmanship and a small tendency to force his tones at times.

Mr. Stern may be highly complimented, also, on his choice of accompanists. The world's best tool maker could not design a more perfectly synchronized mechanism than the team of Stern and Alexander Zakin. When these two appeared in Warren two years ago, they had been together but a short time; and, if ever the result of more complete harmonizing of two musical personalities has been achieved, the writer has never heard it. Altogether, the evening was one of the most enjoyable it will ever be the privi-

Contributions To Russian Fund Slightly Above $2,000

"How is the Russian War Relief coming?"

This is the question being asked by hundreds of people this morning and yesterday in the stores of Warren, in offices, and homes. Members of the Central Committee in charge of drive today, have there is greater popular interest in job of supplying medicine and medical supplies to the Russian armies than in any campaign which has been presented to Warren county in some time. Evidence of this is the tremendous number of contributions coming in each day. For instance, between noon on Wednesday and noon on Thursday, a period of 24 hours, nearly 200 individual contributions were received. These contributions bring the total of the drive to date up to slightly above $2,000. This amount is exactly 50% of the total goal of $4,000 and really represents only three days of activity.

Many of the donations are coming in response to the letter that was sent out. Others are inclosed with the newspaper coupon. Still others are merely handed in by interested friends of the cause. One anonymous contribution of $100 was the largest received yesterday. The question as to whether the campaign would reach its goal of $4,000 cannot be answered satisfactorily as yet, George Wholehen, chairman of the Central Committee, stated. He and other members of the committee believe that the outcome will depend largely on the contributions received from the larger donors in Warren county, namely the industrial plants, factories, and stores. Very few of these have as yet been heard from. It is hoped that generous donations will be received not only from the management of these plants. It is pointed out also that on the basis of the Pennsylvania Business Survey for the month of October, published by Pennsylvania State College, factory payrolls in Warren broke all records for any month in recent years. It is hoped that many factory workers more prosperous now than in years, will come to the aid of the Russian Drive.

Stores, too, have yet to be heard from to any great extent. One large donation of $50 from the Metzger-Wright Company is the sole big contribution received from the retail fraternity since the campaign began.

Again the committee wishes to emphasize the necessity for haste in getting in contributions before Saturday night when the campaign officially closes. Following is the list of donations received in the last twenty-four hour period, published by the courtesy of the Warren Times-Mirror:

Two Girls and a Man

YESTERDAY, Rita Ralston's father, who mortgaged his car for an orange juice factory, he is running for the benefit of the community. But now the New York bank holding the note says it will no longer carry Rita's father. Rita herself is on the New York plane to do what she can. A young man just has begun a conversation.

Chapter Four Date For Tomorrow

"TO TELL you the truth," Rita admitted, "I didn't give the story half a chance. I only read the first paragraph."

"Even that wasn't good and, as I understand it, in the writing business a poor beginning is unforgivable."

"Are you a writer?" Rita said.

"Heaven forbid. Or maybe I should say I follow a profession even more lowly than that—I am an actor!"

"Pictures?"

"No, I haven't as yet sunk quite that low." His light hearted grin robbed the words of their snobbery. "I am still a staunch advocate of the superiority of the legitimate stage. Clark Pasquini's name, you may have heard of me." His smile showed white, even teeth.

"Clark Pasquini?" Rita gasped. "Is there anyone you haven't heard of you? I saw you last season. Moonlight Melodies, and thought it was the best musical since 'Rio Rita.'"

"I'm glad to hear you say that." Then apparently anxious to change the subject from himself Clark asked, "Going to New York on a vacation?"

"No. On business. Business for my father. He was to have gone but was taken ill suddenly."

"I'm sorry," Clark's tone was genuine. "How long are you staying in New York?"

"Only a couple of days," Rita said.

"May I see you, we'll say to-morrow night?"

Rita's heart was racing madly although she was trying desperately not to show the excitement she really felt.

Somehow she managed to get the words out with a casual calmness that even surprised herself. "I'd love to. I'm stopping at the Cheltenham on Forty-Fifth."

Rita Finds Understanding

THE NEXT morning Rita went directly to the First National Bank. Outwardly it was with calm composure that she faced the dark-haired girl at the switchboard.

"I would like to see Mr. William Cunningham, please."

"Did you have an appointment?"

"No, but I'm sure he will see me. I've come all the way from California to talk with him. Tell him it's Rolly Ralston's daughter."

The switchboard operator smiled briefly as she made the connection with Cunningham's office. "A Rolly Ralston's daughter?"

From California to see Mr. Cunningham," she said crisply. And then turning to Rita, "Mr. Cunningham will see you. The first door over there, you may walk right in."

Gesturing toward a chair opposite his desk Mr. Cunningham looked at Rita with keen interest.

"So you're Rolly Ralston's daughter?" he inquired.

Rita smiled and nodded.

"How is your dad?"

Rita's smile faded.

"He's not at all well. He had intended making this trip to see you but suffered a severe heart attack the day he was to have left."

"I'm sorry to hear that," Cunningham's voice was concerned. "I always thought a lot of your father."

"You mean that loan can't be extended?" Rita's face showed lines of worry.

"That is a matter to be decided by the Board of Directors."

"Don't misunderstand me, please, Mr. Cunningham. I know that the fact that you and dad are college together has nothing to do with this deal. The money was borrowed and has to be paid back, but there is so much more at stake than just a rancher by the name of Ralston. His daughter and Blossom Ranch."

"You mean the orange concentrating plant your father wrote me about?" Cunningham asked.

"Yes," Rita said simply.

"You're thinking of all those friends and neighbors of yours who put their savings into that venture?"

A look of sudden surprise crossed Rita's face. "Then, then, you know all about it?"

"When we make a loan of that size, we always like to know exactly what the money is being used for. I have a complete report in my files."

"You know, too, the good that has been accomplished with that money—that over 3,000,000 gallons of concentrated juice has already been shipped to England and distributed free from pharmaceutical houses to children under two years of age. Children that otherwise might have been easy prey to malnutrition."

Gloria

BEFORE Cunningham answered, his secretary came into the room, controlling an exasperated frown. "Mr. Cunningham, your daughter—"

The door behind her was yanked open violently and a dark-haired girl, whose exquisitely groomed appearance was marred only by the willful line of her lips, entered. She gave the secretary an accusing glare as she whipped in past her.

"Conference!" she scoffed, nodding toward Rita. "It's only a girl."

Cunningham smiled sympathetically at the secretary as she left.

"Try a straight jacket on her the next time, Miss Martin." Then he turned back to Rita. "Miss Ralston, this is my daughter, Gloria."

As Gloria acknowledged her with a bored nod, Rita regarded the other girl with an appreciative eye. She was truly dazzling with her long bob falling in blue-black cascades from under a smart white suede hat, her close-fitting black street dress revealing a trim figure and her slim shoulders enhanced by the soft luxuriant hair.

She was snapping shut her jeweled cigarette case and tapping a cigarette on one heavily lacquered nail.

As Cunningham bent forward to light his daughter's cigarette, he concentrated on the business in hand to a contrasting appraisal of the two girls—Rita so freshly eager, so well, the French had a word for it—'bal-anced'—while Gloria radiated only an irritated tension, driven, frustrated determination. What was the difference in the two? He found himself saying hopefully:

"Gloria, this is Rita Ralston, the daughter of one of my old school friends. She's from California. Perhaps you'll be able to see something of her while she's in town."

"What a shame!" Gloria snapped a polite smile in Rita's direction. "Just simply snowed under."

"I'd only known you were coming—The next time—"

She wandered about the office, breaking in on Rita's conversation with Cunningham. She called a friend and made exciting plans for the afternoon and evening. Rita grew more and more confused and distracted. She wondered if Cunningham were really hearing her story.

She was relieved on this point when he took her to the door and laid an understanding hand on her shoulder, while he said, "The Board of Directors meets tonight and I'll tell them the circumstances regarding your father's loan. Don't worry about it. My recommendation carries a lot of weight. Call me in the morning and I'll give a definite answer."

Rita swallowed a lump that had risen in her throat. "I'll be waiting—and thank you so much," she murmured.

WILL REPAIR BRIDGE
Bids will be opened at Harrisburg at 10 a. m. December 21st, for the repairing of the pier foundations of the Hickory street bridge. Discovery that the foundations were impaired was made almost two years ago and the attention of the State Highway Department called to the matter. An investigation was made last fall and engineers made an examination of the super structure and then a diver from Erie spent some time underwater investigating the condition of the pier foundations. Reports were made direct to Harrisburg and the local office of the highway department is not conversant with the findings. A contract for the repair work will be made and the repairs made as soon as possible. The superstructure of the bridge also needs attention as the railings are not in good condition and some of them are several inches out of line.

PITTSFIELD

Pittsfield, Nov. 30.—The game party sponsored by the newly organized "Our Boys Service Club" was a grand success both financially and socially. On Monday, December 14, the club plans to dedicate a service flag. The meeting will be held in the school house at eight o'clock in the evening and everyone is very cordially invited. Pittsfield Girl Scout and Boy Scout troops have been invited to have a part in the dedication. This special service will be followed by a regular monthly meeting of the club, at which time a vice president will be elected. Officers of the club are: Mrs. Franklin, president; Mrs. Tripp, secretary, and Mrs. J. Conklin, treasurer.

Full Meeting—Flags Dedicated
Forty-three people, including Brownies, Intermediate and Senior Scouts and their leaders, Scout mothers and friends, Warren County Commissioner Mrs. R. W. Mackay and Executive Secretary Mrs. Althea Correll, of Warren, were present when the troop flag, purchased with money earned by the Scouts giving a spaghetti supper, and the American flag presented to Troop 28 by Scout June McCoy were dedicated.

Following the Brownie and Scout ceremonies, Mrs. Correll gave a talk and then all enjoyed an ice cream treat.

Florence and Charlotte Kingsley and Shirley Dean, first class Scouts of the Busy Bee patrol, are now members of the Senior troop, of which Mrs. Margaret Smith is leader.

Court of Awards
The following members of the Bluebird patrol received proficiency badges: Evelyn Anderson, Mae Belle Danielson, Theo Franklin, Florence Freeman, Valeria Freeman, Marian Johnson, Beverly McIntyre, Priscilla Thompson, Miss Margaret Dyer, assistant leader, and Margaret and Rachel Fehlmann were invested and received their tenderfoot pins. Mrs. Correll presented first class badges to Evelyn Anderson, Theo Franklin and Florence Freeman.

Scouts of Troop 28 purchased material and made 90 bag tags (to be given hunters to help to prevent forest fires), folded over 1000 newspaper bags for the Warren General Hospital, had 100% representation in gift of defense stamps for the Girl Scout Victory fund; as a troop made a contribution to the Needlework Guild of America.

At Rouse Hospital
Brownies with their leader, Mrs. Abraham; Senior Troop with leader, Mrs. M. Smith; Intermediate Troop 28 with leader, Mrs. Freeman, and Mrs. Danielson and committee chairman, Mrs. Franklin, held their Scout meeting at the Rouse Hospital. All Scouts in horseshoe formation presented the color ceremony with Senior Scouts, Veronica McGraw and Vivian Osagood, as bearers of the American and Troop flags, and Intermediate Scouts, Priscilla Thompson and Ruth Brezelle as color guards. A Scout promise, motto, slogan and laws ceremony was presented following which the Brownies sang their songs and gave their promise. Scouts sang a group of songs learned at camp followed by the International Good-Night and the singing of Taps. After this while singing the G. S. Hiking Song they marched around and presented a gift of candy and fruit to each of the ladies in the home. Senior Scouts packaged the candy. Brownies and Intermediate Scouts made two scrap books which were presented to the matron, Mrs. Hale, for the hospital library.

CHRISTMAS

For years you have seen and heard the slogan, "Buy Early-Mail Early for Christmas." Most of us didn't pay much attention to it for somehow or other our Christmas packages always seemed to get to their destination in time for the Holiday, no matter when they were sent.

This was a great tribute to our unexcelled Postal Service and transportation systems. Now, this year, it is different. They both have a tremendous task in keeping war supplies and war mail on the move.

Whatever we can buy today will relieve just that much pressure from our facilities during the Christmas rush. If most of your Christmas shopping is done early, better service can be given on unavoidable last-minute orders. In all earnestness we ask you to buy early—today is not too soon. To mail early—tomorrow is not too far in advance. We, the railroads, the Postal Service, and your government will appreciate it.

We will as always give preferred service to all Christmas orders, no matter when received; we realize that some purchases must necessarily be delayed. But whatever can be advanced—even if only a few days—will be a great help to everyone.

Scrap Drive On Pearl Harbor Day Promises To Be Success

While wild winds blow and snow sweeps over the face of the county sharp reminder is given that our boys in the fighting fronts are swept by winds of hate and buried under showers of shot and shell. We at home safe are being called upon Monday to do in a small way something for the fighting men. We are being asked to lay upon the scrap piles at least ten pounds of scrap per person in order that to our fighting men may flow a flood of arms with which to engulf the enemy.

With fighting under way on 17 different fronts from tropic skies to Arctic snows the men who are trading blows with the treacherous barbarian of Germany and Japan must have arms, ammunition, planes, tanks and food and clothing. The factories of the land are pouring forth guns, planes and tanks, but to build them more and more scrap metal is needed. We must see to it that the steel mills spew forth their death dealing implements so that our loved ones may fight the good fight.

It may be difficult to get the scrap now that the ground is covered with snow, but that is no reason for failing. Physical discomfort is a poor excuse to the man in the fox hole whose life is sought by Jap snipers nor to the men on the deck of the tossing ships at sea. What do we know of physical discomfort compared with what these men experience in one single day?

Ten pounds of scrap? Not much and should we be content at that? Warren county has been asked for 250 tons of scrap to be piled up next Monday. Ten pounds of scrap for every man, woman and child in the county would do the trick in no time, but there are going to be some slackers and others will have to give enough to make up for what the slackers fail to give. There are some who should have whole truck loads of scrap. On some of the oil leases about the county are tons of scrap that have not as yet come in and it should.

Householders are asked to pile their scrap at the curb where it will be picked up by trucks. Farmers are asked to place theirs along the roadway where they can be easily gathered. Those fellows with the oil leases and an abundance of scrap are asked to haul it to the foot of Market street to the scrap dump.

The appeal has been made county wide and all should be familiar with the aims of the committee which are to win the war, bring our boys home as soon as possible and save lives by giving the men proper support with the best of weapons.

IN THE MOVIES

By ROBBIN COONS
HOLLYWOOD—It is several weeks since the start of Southern California's "rainy season," and even the weather bureau has been permitted to divulge the secret. So it is time for an essay on the rain and its peculiar effect on Hollywood's economic well-being.

Other places rain helps the farmers or ruins picnics, but here it is a matter of high finance. The day it began pouring steadily for a time—the first time since last spring—there were repercussions. Garbo, I suppose, went walking in the downpour, though, to tell the truth as a shelter-seeking sofite I have never met her in the act. Nor did I see Bette Davis, another reputed water baby, run out to play in it.

BUT these aquatic sports have nothing to do with finance, unless the participants happen to catch cold. And there is where the weather ruins the movie ledgers on the red-link side.

On the set of "Nothing Ventured," which has been plagued by illness, Director Wesley Ruggles sniffled, sighed, and grinned sardonically thinking of the budget. Ruggles is very fond of budgets as things to start out with. They keep the front office happy, he is sure, and until a million monkey wrenches hit them they are neat pieces of paper. All Ruggles had to contend with was a series of colds and attacks of flu, which removed successively Lana Turner, Robert Young, Walter Brennan and finally himself. The rain simply clinched matters.

On another set, following a trip to the studio through the rain, Humphrey Bogart sneezed. With the quiet, furious efficiency for which Hollywood is noted, telephone calls were made. Two men in white, with little black bags hurried over to the stage. Bogey had his head tilted back, his throat sprayed, his insides doctored with aspirin and lemon juice, and went on working.

FOR players who respond emotionally to weather, rain has other hazards. Peter Lorre is depressed by rain, for instance. He says it makes him think sad thoughts and indulge in sad self-criticism. This could be costly if a rainy day's shooting required him to be funny. So far he played in luck—that first rainy day he had to play a blue, blue scene for "Edge of Darkness."

We must close our rainy essay with a line from Ilka Chase, who had this to say about our climate. "It's like a blonde girl running in and out of a Turkish bath. Beautiful, maybe, but too warm or too cold and unable to make up her mind."

There are five main islands and some 600 smaller islands in Japan.

This newspaper takes pleasure in printing below the names of the concerns which make it possible to give publicity to the church activities and the preaching of the word on the Sabbath Day.

TUBERCULOSIS BOOKS FOR STATE LIBRARY

The importance of education and educators in the fight to control tuberculosis was emphasized in the joint presentation of two new volumes to the Pennsylvania State Library and to Colonel Henry W. Shoemaker by Dr. Francis B. Haas, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, on behalf of the Pennsylvania Tuberculosis Society. The books are "The People Against Tuberculosis," written by Leigh Mitchell Hodges, columnist and author, who helped Miss Emily P. Bissell to launch the first Christmas Seal Sale in 1907, and "The Lives and Loves of Huber the Tuber," which presents its message largely through drawings and diagrams. Copies of the first-named book are from a special edition and autographed. The presentation to Colonel Shoemaker was made in recognition of his service as chairman of the State Christmas Seal Sponsoring Committee for twelve years and for his work in the fight against tuberculosis. Shown at the presentation at Harrisburg, left to right, are Arthur M. Dewees, executive secretary of the State Tuberculosis Society; Dr. Haas; Alfred Decker Ksator, State Librarian; and Colonel Shoemaker.

Covering The Sports Front!

BY "BOB" JOHNSON

As the deer season ends its first week with the successful and unsuccessful hunters either giving up the search or waiting for warmer weather to return we can rightfully say that it has been quite satisfactory to the many who found the time to give it a try.

Monday, the opener, turned out as the best day regardless of the crunchy snow and the kill was a great deal larger on that day than all the others put together as the wind has come up, bringing with it a frosty ozone and the resulting cold feel that even the hardest cannot put up with.

Now comes out the opportunity for the real hunter to take advantage of the weather and go out and kill his buck. With the majority of nimrods leaving the well trodden paths to go back to his home it comes to light some of the difference in the two.

For instance, we have the nimrod who waits all day on his chosen spot for the chance to take a shot at the buck and quite often making a successful stab at it. But give the same man the opportunity to try it the second week and his chances are nil.

Then there are the others who take pride in knowing how to stalk and kill that deer at any time during the season and do it with regularity that is some times astounding.

The reasons are very simple and credit, for once, should come to the hunter who has studied habits and oddities of the deer herd so that he could hunt and feel that he really hunted it. You see, after the first few days the deer suddenly become scarce and the men begin wondering just what happened to them. Well, when the shells start flying thick and fast and the scent of the hated man becomes too near at all times the herd takes to the redoubt and thick hemlock where it is almost impossible to get a shot at one not to mention getting a sight of the head to make sure.

To make a long story short we are trying to give a lot of credit to some men who think it unportsmanlike to sit at a crossing all day and who regardless of the weather are out there trying so when they finally manage to bring one in they have something to be proud of, along with the feeling that the deer they killed was one that they out-witted.

Well the lid gets pried off the "Y" circuit tomorrow night as the O'Connors and Rocks take to the hardwood for the league's opener—the former against the Red Sox and the latter against Struthers—Let's see all of you there for an evening of thrills that will be worth the building up. Just a little behind we get the report that the Wisconsin-Ohio State game was won by the former because of one factor which could have meant the Big Ten title at the time—Paul Brown slipped up just once and that was on his failure to supply home town water to his team on the train and you can guess what happened when he didn't—Now we're going to watch how patriotic the bowlers can be when the Red Cross takes over the slides for a few nights at a buck a crack—Half of that goes to the fund while the rest takes care of the games and prize money—We're not giving up yet, William, so pray for us tomorrow—

Minor Leagues Steal Winter Show From The Major Chiefs

BY JUDSON BAILEY

Chicago, Dec. 4 (P)—The minor leagues took baseball's winter show away from the majors today and the choicest topic of conversation was not the business facing the convention but the starting switch of Southern Association presidents which brought Billy Evans back into baseball.

It was the most dramatic story in many years of minor league meetings. And it came about because a train was late.

All day yesterday Evans, former general manager of the Cleveland Indians and Boston Red Sox, and for 22 years an American League umpire, was just another famous job hunter among the milling mob of baseball men in the lobby of the Palmer House.

Coach Scanlon Bares Secret Of Successes Of Holy Cross

Philadelphia, Dec. 4 (P)—Coach Hank Scanlon doesn't want to "pop off," he says, after only a year of college coaching—but he does know five good reasons why his underdog Holy Cross Crusaders were able to smash vaunted Boston College in the season's biggest gridiron upset.

Four of the reasons, he explained, are freshmen.

And the fifth, which he traces directly to frosh, is team spirit.

"The season, and our Boston game, proved how freshmen can play varsity football," Scanlon, a former Philadelphia high school coach, said at his home here.

Everything is possible to a freshman. We started frosh tackling—George Connor, 17, and Ted Strojny, 19, and they outplayed Boston's great linemen. We also started Joe McAfee, a freshman back, and in the ninth minute an injury forced me to use another frosh, Joe Campbell, an end.

National Association of Professional Baseball League for two still was the president of his league and no one suspected a change least of all Evans.

Scott had left Atlanta on a train due here at 1:30 p. m., and intended to preside over the southern meeting at 4 p. m. but when his club owners convened, Scott had not been heard from and some of the members, disgruntled for various reasons over past incidents, recalled seeing Evans on the scene for several days.

They knew he was at liberty because Evans had come to the meetings rather expecting to become president of the American Association while George Trautman was on leave of absence as a colonel with the specialist corps of the army. But the specialist corps recently was disbanded and on Tuesday when the army accepted his resignation, he returned to the presidency of the AA.

Valones, Keystones and Olson-Bjers took three points from Time Square, Bradford Penns and Crossetts respectively. Times Square's only point was made possible by Ryberg's 223 game which helped win. Bradford Penn's point came as a result of John Smith's 219 game. Olson and Bjers had to roll off tie with Crossetts, the point being won by the latter. J. Salomon's 580 topped scoring honors. Local Bowlers Will Roll For Red Cross

The public bowling alleys in Warren have completed plans to participate in the Bowlers Victory Legion which will stage a benefit week beginning Monday for the American Red Cross.

At the Arcade a head-pin tournament will be held with half of the proceeds being donated to the local chapter of the Red Cross.

Announcement has been made that Burgess R. W. Steber will roll the first ball in the tournament and other citizens of prominence will also participate.

At the Penn Bowling Center contributions will be collected from the league bowlers during the week and a tournament will be arranged for the weekend, with the Red Cross receiving a portion of the proceeds.

Further details regarding participation of Warren bowlers will be announced later.
